

Proposed Rossmoyne Historic District Designation Process Timeline

(current status highlighted in red)

City of Glendale Historic District Process

Revised 03/09

April 5, 2010

Nomination submitted to Planning Division

April 26, 2010

HPC reviews nomination: finds proposed district appears to meet designation criteria; authorizes proponents to circulate petition. Petition due by July 26

June 2, 2010

Community Meeting to review district proposal

July 26, 2010

HPC reviews petition and authorizes staff to move forward with historic resources survey

March 2011

LSA Inc. begins research and fieldwork required for survey report. Draft version expected for review in May.

October 24, 2011

HPC reviews and approves survey, also authorizing district proponents to circulate a petition requesting a historic district overlay zone.

April 23, 2012

Petition requesting a historic district overlay zone containing signatures of owners of 71% of properties in proposed district, exceeding city requirement of 50+%

May 24, 2012

HPC reviews petition and votes unanimously (3-0) to recommend that the City Council establish the Rossmoyne Historic District

June 6, 2012

Planning Commission reviews nomination and petition and votes unanimously (5-0) to recommend that the City Council establish the Rossmoyne Historic District

July 10, 2012

Introduction of ordinance to create Rossmoyne Historic District heard by City Council

July 17, 2012

City Council votes unanimously (5-0) to designate Rossmoyne Historic District