

Is Your Desired Career In Demand?

- Labor Market Information helps you determine if your desired career is in decline or demand.
- Always check Labor Market Information before making career changes or when going back to school or training.
- To get detailed information on your desired occupation, see the link below.
- This site will navigate you through all the important workforce and labor market information on various industries in our region and nationwide.

<https://www.onetonline.org/>

*You can also request to meet the Case Manager of the day to discuss your findings